List of Web Pages

- Background Page – This page as the name suggests, is a simple and brief introduction to who the creator, Nathan Bowen, is. It contains information about his upbringing, likes, dislikes and even a form of contact via email, through an interactive image.
- Personal Development Page – Here Nathan stated his degree of study and some skills he's been developing during his academic journey so far. He also summarized a few chapters of the book "The Twelve Pillars" where he discussed how these chapters corelate with his life so far.
- Personality Page – Within this page, the reader slowly gets to learn a bit more about the author where he shares some personal insight. Namely he went through a hobby, trait, favored quote, stated his hero and even shared the results of his personality test.
- Professional Page – This page displays the authors professional vision, mission, background and some career plans.
- Story Board Page – A page that outlines Nathan's thought process behind building this website, shows his design, explains each page, and briefly expounds on the theme.
- Reference Page – Where Nathan put all his links that assisted him in creating the site.\

Theme

When creating this site, the theme I aimed for was to be subtle. From the choice of colors, down to the curved edges of pictures and borders, with just a hint of emojis, I only hoped that I achieved this goal.

Features

In terms of features, a button-based navigation bar was included in an attempt to accompany the theme. I understand that for some individuals, consistent reading is a chore, so I tried my best to use iframes and photos throughout the site where applicable to catch the user's eye and have them reengage. Finally, to represent information, I utilized a bubble border system to enhance the site's aesthetic.
